To Go Through as Humanitarian, Not Political, Measure, Congressman Says.

CHICAGO, March 10 .- Declaration that the soldiers' bonus would be passed, for humanitarian reasons and not as a political measure, was made by Joseph W. Fordney, chairman of the House ways and means committee in a speech before a meeting of the American Wholesale Lumber Associa-

"We are going to report the bill Saturday morning, ask for a suspension of the House rules on Monday morning and rush it through before everything else," he said.

"The bonus bill as we have it now will pay the soldier a dollar a day for five hundred days of home service, or $1.25 a day for five hundred days of overseas service. He also can receive a twenty year raid up insurceive a twenty-year paid up insur-ence policy, on which he can borrow 60 per cent of his compensation from

"During the war, while these boys were overseas, fifty-five hundred strikes were carried on. They were striking for shorter hours and more pay and they were doing it so successfully that up to November 11, 1918, not a single American shell had been fired during the war.

"You men sitting here before me cheered them madly and marched with them to the depot. And you didn't go a damn step further. Suppose Germany had won the war. What do you think your taxes would have been? They would have been twenty times more than the bonus. During the war the ways the bonus. During the war the ways and means committee authorized the swance of over $51,000,000,000 worth of bonds. Up to that time, since the founding of this government, we had only spent $31,000,000,000."

Senate Committee Reports Increases of $70,000,000 Over House Measure.

The post office appropriation was reported to the Senate yesterday from the post office committee by Chairman Townsend, carrying approximately $70,000,000 more than the House bill. Among the increases made by the Senate committee were $50,000,000 for dederal road construction, $1,900,000 for continuing the transcontinental airplane mail service and $513,000 for repair of the New York pneumatic mail tube service. The bill as reported carries a total of about $624,000,000. In addition to the $50,000,000 for next year in carrying out the federal highway act, the committee declared for $65,000,000 for 1924 and $75,000,000 for 1925.

An increase of 100 in the humber An increase of 100 in the number of post office inspectors over the 420 authorized by the House also was recommended by the committee. The present force is 435 and Chief Inspector Simmons testified that the inspection force was "hopelessly behind" in its work. Depredations of parcel post mail, Mr. Simmons said, have increased the bureau's work greatly.

The $1,900,000 authorized for continuing the transcontinental mail service, which the House refused to provide for, is the minimum for safe operation of the mail airplanes, officials told the committee, although $300,000 less than the estimates. The committee was told that American airplane development was "negligible" compared with foreign airplane systems.

Eventually, officials said, it is hoped that private companies will take over the airplane mail transportation.

An innovation in the postal service proposed by the committee are cash prizes for suggestions from employes for improvements, of economies in service and of processes. Appropriation of $5,000 for such awards next year was recommended.

Friends of free seed, satisfied they could win again, as they had for twenty years, carried on like a crowd at a carnival during the brief battle which they won by a vote of 145 to 65.
